

St. Ignatius Preschool

Letter Z? It can't be!

Whew! We finished the alphabet this week & next week we will start on the number 1! Can you believe that we have been in school for 26 weeks? Amazing! We practiced making Z's and talked a lot about Zebras and zip-pers this week!

Next week we will have our St. Patrick's Day celebration with a potato hunt. The potatoes will be donate to our Bounty Dinner after we hunt them. Thank you so much for all of you who are coming to the party and those who are bringing treats.

REMINDER:

March 17th, TK & Kindergarten Registration is DUE.

Don't forget there is no Afternoon Preschool Extended day on Thursday, April, 13th.

There is no Hot Lunch on Friday March 31st.

You may order Pizza from the Athletic Committee for lunch.

March 31st is also the Talent Show.

Please send your child to school in jeans and a solid color shirt.

March 31st is also March Madness. Come watch the teachers play against the students!

Check your email!

Last week I sent an email with all the upcoming dates for our preschoolers. Please make sure you plan on picking up your child and taking them to the 8th grade carnival. This is a fun afternoon and I would hate to have a student have to go home when all their friends are going to the carnival.

Also plan on taking your graduate home after graduation on Monday, June 6th. The students are dismissed after graduation that day. This is their last day of preschool!

Finishing the Alphabet..

As you know we are almost done with the Alphabet! We will work on our numbers 1 to 10 next. We will then move back to the Alphabet and work on reviewing and lower case recognition.

A Belated Thank You!

Take the time to read the attached letter from Todd Lindeman, Principal of Edison School.

Edison School is where the children of the families we adopted at Christmas time attend school.

It is very heart warming to read his kind words.

Thank you so much for contributing to such a great cause.

Lenten Prayer Partners

The Glowworm Class has each received a Lenten Prayer Partner. We will be praying for our partners for the Lenten Season. Please read the handout that I sent home and pray with your child at home. Thank you!

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols. Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a bi-annual charity auction.

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.
